The key to reading is little and often. Much better to read for 15 minutes most days, than for 1 hour once a week.

Try to go on Bug Club at least 3 times a week and remember to answer all the questions before moving onto a new book. It is not a race to read as many as you can! It is important that you understand what you are reading (any hopefully enjoy it too!).

Remember, reading happens in many different ways – all of which are great, as long as you are reading! For example, I bought a stand to raise my computer up last week and I had to read the instructions on how to put it together...so I was reading then!

Here are some more ideas to keep you reading. Don't forget to read First News and to access the library online if you have a library card.

<https://www.beano.com/> Lots of fun things to read and do with my favourite comic!

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/newsround> Keep up to date with the news.

Oxford Owl – I have signed us up for free access. Look on Seesaw for more details.

Literacy

The government have set up 'Oak National Academy' <https://www.thenational.academy/> . This is a site with a comprehensive set of lessons, created by teachers and designed for home learning. We shall be using this for literacy learning this week.

Look on Seesaw for more details and the links you need.

If you see LO it means learning objective – this is like our WALT and WILFs.
